DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hill (5003757).

In re cl. 1, 9, 17, 2, 10:

A chute apparatus comprising:

A chute flap / deflector (14) open/closed positions & pivotally attached to the housing (descrip. ¶ 4);

A retaining flap / mounting bracket (40 & T swivel 20) moveably attached to the housing (descrip. ¶ 5-6, can be raised in position D), so the retaining flap/bracket's at least one portion can move generally vertical direction;

it is noted the retaining flap is independent of the flap, or not part or integral of the flap;

in re cl. 17, 7, 15:

the retaining flap having a first & second sections perpendicular to each other (T swivel as shown below has sections, and ref 40 also has "generally" perpendicular sections);

in re cl. 3, 11, 6, 14:

the chute flap and/or retaining flap is/are biased in open or chute positions (Descrp. ¶ 13);

in re cl. 4, 12:

the chute flap comprises: a flange & wall portions as shown below:

FIG. 4

in re cl. 5, 13:

Art Unit: 3671

the retaining flap, for example via ref 30, cross portion, pivotally attached to the housing;

in re cl. 22, 8, 16:

as shown in fig 2, the chute flap & the retaining flap rotatable about a substantially perpendicular axes;

As applied to claim(s) 18-22, in view of the structure disclosed/taught by Hill, the method of operating/using the device is inherent since it is the normal and logical manner in which the device is used.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
